

Reasons for Support: Molly's positions on all key issues align closely with those of FCBR® -- including housing affordability, occupancy limits, reducing the cost of building new housing, etc. In addition, she wants to champion local businesses and “foster a culture of constructive conversations” in which everyone can contribute. She is dynamic, charismatic, eloquent and has gravitas. Molly has the skills to bring different people and groups together for the good of the City, which is crucial for this position. Molly earned the endorsement of Fort Collins' current mayor, who is highly respected by FCBR®.
